Date: April 12, 2013
Time: 6:13 – 10:13 PM

Amount of people attending: ~150
All participants MIT Students/Staff: No

Event Description:
MacGregor House is sponsoring a prefrosh event for Campus Preview Weekend (CPW) that involves a bouncy obstacle course, an ice cream truck, music and dancing, and dinner. It is an annual event and the idea is for it to be a small-scale carnival for the prefrosh to meet the residents of MacGregor.

Hazards involved with the event:
The inflatable obstacle course is a potential hazard at this event. Participants may accidentally bounce off the course, bump into each other, or otherwise fall down.

Plan to remove or limit hazards:
- The obstacle course will be carefully monitored by employees from the rental company as well as student volunteers.
- The inflatable will be set up in an open grassy field and will only be used in fair weather.
- No more than four people will be allowed on the course at a time.
- Participants will be required to remove shoes, glasses, and any other articles that the supervisors deem unsafe.
- The course is unidirectional and participants will run separate tracks, so the possibility of them colliding is minimal to nonexistent. The greater risk of falling off the course is countered by the inflatable's walls.
- No food or drink will be allowed on the course.
- Any participants roughhousing on the course will be asked to leave.
- At least one volunteer trained in professional First Aid and CPR will be present for the duration of the event.
